Starting an early relationship with golf, Bill caddied for his mother as a young man at the Calgary Golf and Country Club, a course he would support and cherish for eighty years. Not just a great player, Bill was committed to furthering the game and as such served on the Calgary Golf and Country Club's Board from 1953 to 1962 acting as president in 1962 and 1963. He also served on the Alberta Golf Association Board for seven years and was president in 1964 and 1965.
